

This exhibition was made possible by the generous support of lead sponsor Jeannie & Jonathan Lavine. Additional major funding was provided by the Bildners—Joan & Allen z"l, Elisa Spungen & Rob, Nancy & Jim; and Jane and Daniel Och.

The Museum's exhibitions are also supported by the Lester Robbins and Sheila Johnson Robbins Traveling and Special Exhibitions Fund, established in 1990.

HOLOCAUST HISTORY RAISES IMPORTANT QUESTIONS about what the international community, including the United States, could have done to stop the rise of Nazism in Germany and its assault on Europe's Jews. The United States alone could not have prevented the Holocaust, but more could have been done to save some of the six million Jews who were killed. The Americans and the Holocaust traveling exhibition examines the motives, pressures, and fears that shaped Americans' responses to Nazism, war, and genocide.
